Brooklyn, New York, August 1, 2009, Serena Rockower, Director of Marketing and Outreach at Circuit Productions, Inc., announced the upcoming August dates for Rhythm Journeys: Masters of World Music and Dance, and the Blues & Jazz Heritage Project. All performances are in collaboration with public libraries, city festivals, and museums.

Rhythm Journeys: Masters of World Music and Dance encourages public access to the work of emerging and established artists of color who reflect the ethnic diversity of world music and dance idioms. Rockower says “We’re thrilled to have innovative and diverse programming featuring NYC artists: Michela Marino-Lerman and her fresh dancing style brings a new perspective to tap dance choreography; Puppeteers Cooperative has a spectacular show featuring large scale puppets that stimulate young imaginations; Something Positive demonstrates the resplendent music and dance of the Afro-Caribbean Diaspora. The diversity of our programming is aimed at the rainbow of cultures that New York City has to offer.”

Blues & Jazz Heritage Project showcases artists whose work preserves the rich culture of American music from the blues and jazz era. On August 4th, 2009 Bennie's Burrito will host Señor Lucky Blues Band. The band inspired by legendary blues musicians Muddy Waters, B.B. King, and Little Walter, pays homage to these blues masters who have influenced their own musical style.

Señor Lucky known for its Chicago style jump blues sound has appeared at Chelsea Piers, “Chicago Blues” and Langston Hughes Cultural Center. Band Leader Paul Handelman says, “Listening to the group will remind you why it’s still a great thing to hear live music performed by seasoned musicians who have a deep love for the Blues!”

About Circuit Productions, Inc.

Circuit Productions, Inc. was founded by Susan Goldbetter in 1986 as a non-profit organization dedicated to the promotion, production and preservation of the uniquely American art forms of jazz and tap dance. Our mission is to inspire, entertain and educate underserved audiences in New York through performances, public classes, workshops, and arts education programs featuring senior and emerging artists who are living legends of the city's rich tap, jazz, and world music and dance history. Annually, Circuit provides booking and management services for these artists placing performers in museums, libraries, local colleges, public schools, senior centers, and music festivals.
